Joining a Decade of Success

by Anna Sprague

I am excited and honored to step into the role of executive director for Shelter Development, Inc. and theExchange. Thank you to all the volunteers, staff, donors, and community partners who have given me such a warm welcome. Thanks to the decade of passion and service from those who came before me, these first two months have flown by in the best possible way.

Over the past 5 years, I've served our region through community development and fundraising roles. Prior to that, I spent almost a decade growing a small bridal start up idea into a national brand before the pandemic paused the wedding industry overnight—a professional switch up that turned out to be a huge blessing as my family returned to the La Crosse community which raised me. Bringing my professional skills into the nonprofit space here was an easy decision after growing up witnessing the generosity of our community and countless times when a few individuals have stepped up to make a huge impact.

That's the story of theExchange after all: a few people who saw a chance to connect community resources with needs to create meaningful change. I've been inspired as I've listened to stories from the founders and volunteers, or witnessed a donation arrive minutes before an appointment that requested that very item. In all of these exchanges, one concept has continued to stand out—we serve as a conduit for good. From furniture and home goods to referrals and ideas to connection and support, theExchange lives up to its name.

Like anyone stepping into a new role, I have lots of goals and dreams. First up, highlighting and celebrating the first ten years of successes to build our network of change-makers (Make sure to follow us or tell a friend!). It is my privilege to usher in a new decade and steward this incredible organization. Every gift helps care for our neighbors in need. Thank you for your continued support!

Deb Randall-Anderson
by Kathie Tyser

Every nonprofit organization finds volunteers invaluable and theExchange has landed some of the best around. Meet one of them in this issue—Deb Randall-Anderson—and you just may be inspired to join her!

Deb began volunteering at theExchange in 2017 after retiring from a career in higher education, most recently at Viterbo University where she worked as creating and managing online classes for adult learners. Here she heard about theExchange from Sue Batell and Sheila Riley. She brought those organizational skills and her positivity to various aspects of theExchange over the last nine years.

Deb weaves her connection to theExchange in all sorts of ways! She coordinated the highly successful Cleaning Supplies Drive (every home needs cleaning supplies!) and the Caledonia rummage sale with the help of her PEO friends. (see photo bottom left). She lends a hand through garage sale pickups and helping with the Pizza Ranch fundraiser, all in addition to her regular time as Program Assistant taking in donations, sorting and organizing for shoppers.

What keeps her coming back? "It's been great meeting the people I have worked with and the great sense of pride and accomplishment in what we do each day at theExchange. I tell people: 'JOIN US! You will LOVE the volunteers you work with, the staff and the clients!'"

"Every interaction with Deb, it's obvious how much she cares about the work of theExchange and wants to share it with others. She might try to tell you that she doesn't really do much but the combined impact of all the "little things" she does is an enormous gift to our team and our community!," says Anna Sprague, Executive Director.
